Magr. Michael McCarthy was guest speaker opening the meeting of the Parents Club of St. Joseph Academy, Tuesday afternoon at 7:30.

Using the Centennial of the Apparition of the Virgin to Bernadette in Lourdes. Magr. spoke of the Miracle of the appearance of the Blessed Virgin to the humble girl, Bernadette, in 1858, and of the discredence given her story. He brought in the development of Lourdes, as through the years divine healing powers have wrought miracles to pilgrims who travel to the Shrine with the wrecked bodies of many humans made whole for those who have faith. All too briefly the interesting talk was concluded, with Magr. pointing out that medical men are invited and do study pilgrims who have been cured, in efforts to explain the phenomena which has baffled medical science.

Following the conclusion of the program, business of the meeting was taken up. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Wm. Bordages, Mrs. Lionel Bordages, Mrs. B. L. Davis and Mrs. Harvey Ming.

The attendance prize went to the class of Miss Marie Therese Staehle and Mrs. Catherine Garcia was awarded the entrance prize.

OUR CENTENNIAL

The Bay St. Louis Centennial Celebration is coming closer to a reality.

The tremendous benefit accruing to our city and county from a well staged celebration is almost incalculable and we heartily lend our full support and backing to our City officials and Chamber of Commerce as well as all other organizations who will participate in this highly worthwhile project.

Such a well staged event will bring this community priceless publicity on a State and National scale. If staged properly it will attract thousands of visitors who in turn will leave with our merchants, many many thousands of dollars and much amusement and pleasure for everyone, visitors and homefolks alike.

The question of whether it should be staged by a professional company, trained for the purpose, or whether it should be more advisable for the City itself in cooperation with its citizens and organizations is, of course, a matter to be left up to the city officials in consultation with the Chamber of Commerce and their other advisors.

We would like to point out here, however, that extreme caution should be exercised in making this decision, and regardless of who puts on the show, the fund raising methods to offset its cost should be clearly understood by everyone before hand to assure that no segment of our business life is injured.

This newspaper is on record as being opposed to any plan which would do harm to any single business group in the city; for, aside from its commercial value to us it is primarily to benefit rather than injure any of us.

We do not mean by this expression to convey in any way the impression that we oppose or favor any plan proposed. This is of course, since nothing concrete has been proposed, anyone else has as yet been heard.

We simply wish it to be understood that we are on record as being opposed to any plan which would do harm to any single business group in the city; for, aside from its commercial value to us it is primarily to benefit rather than injure any of us.

HEART FUND DRIVE TO BE HELD DURING MONTH OF FEBRUARY

During the month of February Hancock County will be solicited for funds for the Heart Fund. It is hoped by Mrs. Charles Beyer that the community will give as generously this year as it has in the past, to aid in the battle of the nation in fighting the number one killer, Heart, which strikes at young and old indiscriminately.

Great strides are being taken in the state in research and rehabilitation of sufferers from heart diseases, and this work is accomplished by cooperation and contributions.

Mrs. Beyer, who has been serving as chairman of the County Heart Fund Drive for several years, reports that the county received a State Award in 1957 for the outstanding work done during the Heart Fund Campaign.

"Make 1958 just as successful, give and give generously," said Mrs. Beyer.

Sam Groggs Represents Rogers Producing Co.

Sam Groggs, representing the Rogers Producing Co., is in Hancock County for possible contracts for a centennial celebration. He also details a manner of financing such celebrations and following a tour of the county, which will be during the coming week, at a meeting scheduled for 2 p. m., Feb. 13, will be working by Groggs at no cost, in connection from Bay St. Louis to the Rogers Co.

Testimonials, pictures, magazine articles, etc., were presented. Groggs at the meeting to show successful types of staging have been done in communities throughout the country. The company, the only one of its kind in the nation. Representatives work in all sorts of communities from entire states, large, small towns and hamlets. Celebrations are based on materials, stories, and terrain features which are considered by experts to be the best attractions in drawing audiences and giving wide publicity to the community participation in the celebration.

Groggs further contended that explanation of the benefits of such celebrations, were done for the immediate entertainment features, but as a far reaching advertising program in the communities which have been involved in such celebrations, benefited with increased business for retail merchants and increased populations.

He claims that the show is for everyone and that everyone becomes a part of the great time element of such a celebration would be determined after the survey. Daytime activities would be constant and evening are climaxed usually with the outdoor theatre type of spectacular pageant which is especially potent to bring the most advantage and colorful historical events to the community. Costumes, flags, equipment, props, etc., all furnished by the Rogers Co. Casts are made up of local talent under the direction of professional actors.

Groggs detailed a twenty different means whereby financing of such centennials is done under the direction of all concerned, and maintains that in practically every instance where company has been given a tract, the operations have not a profit to the community, least broken even financially all the benefits of territorial gain, at no cost to the community, involve. He further planned several methods of financing in original financing, by derelicting of loans, which usually paid prior to the opening of the celebration. He did not ture to guess possible cost staging such a celebration, but will give figures of the showing to be held on Feb. 13 at 2 p. m. at the Youth Center.

Have You a Heart Beat to Spare?

By J. O. Kummerich
The editorial is as personal as taking a bath. It concerns the heart of man, your heart beats, your loved ones' and the heart of your friends.
The average man does not acquire a million dollars in his life. But he does have three billion potential heart beats — heart beats more precious than gold.
The heart flicker one beat and within three seconds a person is unconscious; within six seconds the tissues commence to die.
In 1968, there were 3,390 Mississippians who died as a result of cardiovascular diseases. This total may have included a loved one of yours. There is little doubt but that a good friend was included.
The purpose of this editorial is to look ahead, not behind. In this year a revolution of heart fatalities you may be included — or not.
This is why this editorial is so personal.
During the month of February, 1968, a vigorous effort will be made to help curtail the stoppage of human hearts. The Mississippi Heart Association will raise funds to help further research into heart diseases so that all of us may have a longer life potential.

In Mississippi, cardiovascular disease kills nearly four times as many people as does cancer; 16 times as many as pneumonia; 47 times as many as tuberculosis — 25 Mississippians per day. More than 125,000 living Mississippians, including 6,000 little children, have crippled hearts.
As this skeletal finger moves about our state the question arises: "Who is next?" Last year 54 per cent of the deaths in the United States were attributed to heart and kindred maladies.

The Mississippi Heart Association asks every Mississippian to cooperate in this statewide, nationwide movement to lessen the heart death toll. Scientists have been regimented to solve these deadly diseases.
In 1950, the Mississippi Heart Association spent $14,400 for research projects at the University Medical Center. The American Heart Association provided $10,870 additionally for research. In 1957, $10,000 was allocated for research projects and an endowment of a cardiovascular chair at the University Medical Center. The American Heart Association came forth with $17,160 in new grants.

This challenge merits our cooperation. The reward of cooperation is obvious. The penalty for failure to cooperate is equally obvious.

A man-eating tiger destroyed several people working in an experimental field. The whole community was aroused. Everyone wanted to destroy the man-killer. Yet the tiger killed but a few people. This heart man-killer has an unquenchable appetite for human lives.

Every Mississippian is asked to join the hunt — to provide the funds for research so our people may live full, rich, healthful lives.
This we should know: Mississippians have spent far more money on flowers to put on the graves of their heart dead than they have invested in the effort to halt this heart death toll.

You can help — and this month is the month of the fund drive and your opportunity to do so.

To Begin Operation of Nat. Guard Candidate School in May

The State of Mississippi will begin operation of a National Guard Candidate School for the time on the 17th of May. For men who meet the physical, moral and mental qualifications and complete the Officer Candidate School, a commission as second lieutenant in the National Guard will be given. Applicants must be members of the National Guard and be between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-eight years. Applicants must have two years prior service with the National Guard or have completed basic training with one of the branches of the U.S. Army. It is necessary that the applicant be a resident of Mississippi and have a table of organization and equipment. It is also necessary that the applicant make at least 115 entrance examinations.

The final 88 hours of training will be at Camp Shelby in 1969. It will also be a field training exercise.
The program will consist of 236 hours of total instruction on various subjects. The instruction will be given by members of the National Guard and Unit Advisors assigned to the National Guard. It will be similar to the Officer Candidate School of the Infantry School at Fort Benning, Georgia. The main difference in the two courses is that the time element is much shorter and the branch of service will be immaterial rather than Infantry. The instruction will be given at two sites. It will be given with 12 hours to be given at the Army Infantry School, Mississippi. This phase will be primarily for the issuance of supplies and general organization in preparation for the second phase.
The second phase will be given from 8-22 June at Camp Shelby, Mississippi. This phase will be primarily field training. It will consist of 98 hours of training. Phase three will be four weeks of training between 1 July and 1 June of the following year. It will be conducted at the Army Infantry School, Mississippi, with a total of 48 hours of instruction.

Marlin Pleads For Care Of Forest Woods Fires

State Forester C. B. Marlin pleaded for care with fire today as firefighters Monday faced the fourth day of blazes. Conditions in South Mississippi after extinguishing 115 fires which burned 2,897 acres by 3:00 p.m. Sunday, firefighters continued to battle through the night. Predictions of continued wind and no rain promised little relief.

One hundred fifteen fires burning 2,897 acres occurred Sunday. Eighty-seven of these fires and 2,400 of the burned acres were in the Southeast district.

Noon Monday found five counties in South Mississippi still battling Sunday night fires. The counties are Lamar, Forrest, Perry, Jackson and Stone. Sunday fires in these counties were in numbers of five to fourteen each. The weekend total has now swelled to well over 300 fires which scorched over 6,000 acres.

Relief crews from Sharkey, Issaquena, Warren, Holmes, Yazoo, Jasper, Newton, Smith and Clarke remained at work in the critical South Mississippi areas.

Crew Leader G. R. Sullivan, Smith County, hurt fighting fire Sunday in Lamar County, will be released from a Hattiesburg hospital at an early date.

Jones County citizens, aroused at the infancy of the arson committed upon their forests, have come forth with a renewed offer of $500.00 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of parties responsible for the fires.

These malicious woods burners are destroying a resource that is supplying the base for at least one-fourth of the tax funds used for education, welfare and the other services supplied by the county and state governments.

"Mississippi forest land is producing only about one-third of its potential, and there are approximately 8.8 million acres of idle, unimproved grazing and sparsely forested land which are producing little or nothing." There is no single group of people more responsible for this condition than are the woods burners.

WAVELAND

GEORGETTE B. HALL

All the people who have raised Mrs. Ruth Meilleur in the globe laundry these many weeks, will be happy to know that she is really on the road to recovery after a long bout with the flu and other complications. While in the memorial hospital in Gulfport, she was remembered by her friends in many ways which helped to make her confinement more endurable. The ladies of the Eastern Star Chapter visited her in groups, friends called, cards, telegrams, gifts and flowers added great cheer to lonely hospital days. Ministers of the Methodist Churches in Bay St. Louis and Waveland gave her spiritual cheer and members of both churches helped to keep her "in touch." Mrs. Meilleur is so grateful for all of these gestures and sends her sincerest thanks through this column to everyone who visited her, sent her a card, or in any way thought of her during her illness.

According to Mrs. Ruth Meilleur, she might have had what will be known as the first "soup shower" in these parts. Knowing that she was very ill, and because of doctor's orders, on a light diet, soups of every flavor were brought to Mrs. Meilleur by her friends. She tells us that she'll be well supplied with delicious hot soup for a long time.

Get well wishes are sent this week to two well known ladies of Waveland who are ill. Mrs. C. J. Piazza, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turcotte, Sr., of Waveland, is in the Bay St. Louis Hospital where she is recovering from pneumonia.

Mrs. A. B. Favre, Jr., is confined to her home due to illness. It is hoped that both Mrs. Favre and Mrs. Piazza will be up and about again soon.

This column extends deep sympathy to the family, relatives, and friends of Mr. Charles J. Jensen, 49, who died this week and was buried in Waveland Cemetery by Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hubbard.

In addition to the members of the State Board, each local president and one delegate from each local league, are privileged to attend as voting delegates, but all League members and other interested women are invited to attend. Workshops on state and national program, as well as local problems will make up the programs instead of a guest speaker.

The following Budget Committee was appointed: Mrs. Lawrence Nelson, Long Beach, Chairman; Mesdames Laurie Ratcliffe, Natchez; I. A. Rosenbaum, Sr., Meridian; and Lee R. Meyer, Meridian, have been actively working for the passage of this bill. The passage of this bill by the Legislature is a must for this session of Congress, said Dr. Howard.

ATTEND STATE SESSION

The entire Board, supplemented by members of the Jackson League, attended the Senate session at which the bill enabling women to serve on juries was under discussion. The League of Women Voters, along with the Business and Professional Women and the Woman's Club, of Public Affairs, have been actively working for the passage of this bill. The passage of this bill by the Legislature is a must for this session of Congress, said Dr. Howard.

Shell Oil Co. officials said they completed a wildcat gas well near the abandoned Siloam gas field in Clay County. Test figures were unavailable immediately and officials said it was too soon to tell whether the well had commercial possibilities. The venture, Jarrett No. 1 was producing from the Carter sand in the Mississippi Chester zone about 8,600 feet. Shell officials said field men were removing the drilling equipment to begin a series of tests for the commercial worth.

WANDERINGS

GEORGETTE B. HALL

All the people who have raised Mrs. Ruth Meilleur in the globe laundry these many weeks, will be happy to know that she is really on the road to recovery after a long bout with the flu and other complications. While in the memorial hospital in Gulfport, she was remembered by her friends in many ways which helped to make her confinement more endurable. The ladies of the Eastern Star Chapter visited her in groups, friends called, cards, telegrams, gifts and flowers added great cheer to lonely hospital days. Ministers of the Methodist Churches in Bay St. Louis and Waveland gave her spiritual cheer and members of both churches helped to keep her "in touch." Mrs. Meilleur is so grateful for all of these gestures and sends her sincerest thanks through this column to everyone who visited her, sent her a card, or in any way thought of her during her illness.

According to Mrs. Ruth Meilleur, she might have had what will be known as the first "soup shower" in these parts. Knowing that she was very ill, and because of doctor's orders, on a light diet, soups of every flavor were brought to Mrs. Meilleur by her friends. She tells us that she'll be well supplied with delicious hot soup for a long time.

Get well wishes are sent this week to two well known ladies of Waveland who are ill. Mrs. C. J. Piazza, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turcotte, Sr., of Waveland, is in the Bay St. Louis Hospital where she is recovering from pneumonia.

Mrs. A. B. Favre, Jr., is confined to her home due to illness. It is hoped that both Mrs. Favre and Mrs. Piazza will be up and about again soon.

This column extends deep sympathy to the family, relatives, and friends of Mr. Charles J. Jensen, 49, who died this week and was buried in Waveland Cemetery by Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hubbard.
